Leading at the intersection of brand strategy, design systems, and organizational storytelling – turning complexity into clear, scalable creative solutions.

Creative Director
2024 – PRESENT

ChenMed

Lead the in-house creative team for a national healthcare brand, setting creative vision and brand standards across digital, social, environmental, print, and experiential channels supporting 100+ locations. Rebuilt studio operations and workflows, introduced AI-assisted production tools, and partnered with executive leadership to align creative strategy with business goals while elevating team performance and output quality.

VP, Chief Marketing Officer
2021 – 2024

CyberCatch

Built and led brand, creative, and marketing for a high-growth cybersecurity SaaS company, helping scale the business thru IPO in Canada. Directed multidisciplinary teams across creative, digital, content, CRM, and demand generation, developing brand systems, messaging frameworks, and go-to-market strategy. Partnered with Product, Sales, and executive leadership to translate complex cybersecurity solutions into clear storytelling that drove pipeline growth and market differentiation.

Creative Director & Visual Designer
2020 – 2021

Self-Employed

Led creative direction and brand identity for a diverse portfolio of consumer brands, tech startups, wellness companies, and B2B organizations. Delivered visual identity systems, campaign creative, UI/UX, motion, packaging, and product visualization. Partnered directly with founders, CMOs, and product teams to translate early-stage ideas into polished, market-ready brand experiences.

Branding & Design Specialist
2017 – 2020

Electronic Arts

Led global visual identity systems for EA's internal brand and employee experience platforms, developing asset libraries, brand guidelines, iconography, and photography standards used by teams across North America, Europe, and Asia. Built presentation systems and visual governance frameworks to ensure consistent execution across hundreds of deliverables, and supported employee engagement initiatives through campaigns and brand training workshops across global studios.

Art Director
2014 – 2017

Hill&Knowlton Strategies

Led creative direction for business development and client campaigns at a leading global communications firm, contributing to $10M+ in new business wins including P&G, Vanguard, Hitachi, Pfizer, and ANA. Produced integrated brand campaigns, design systems, and motion-supported storytelling for clients such as Target, Mazda, and Pfizer. Partnered with strategy and account teams to deliver insight-driven creative from pitch through execution under tight deadlines.
